From 2 to 8 pm

In Belleville, a Parisian district located across the 10th, 11th, 19th and 20th arrondissements, a large community of artists has flourished. Since 1990, they have opened their studios to the public during four days, in spring; over the years, it has become a major artistic event.

During these four days, everyone has the chance to meet artists and discover their universe, to explore diverse and lively contemporary art, and to find great and affordable artworks !
Additionally, this is an ideal opportunity to discover the Belleville neighbourhood and its various facets and unexpected places.

Amateurs of art, collectors, and those who are simply curious are all invited to visit the backstage of creation !

- > 156 artists and collectives participating
- > 106 open studios
- > A wide range of artistic styles represented (painting, sculpture, photography, ceramics, drawing, engraving, collage...)
- > Nuit Blanche on Saturday evening (from 8 pm to midnight), in 64 studios and courtyards: concerts, performances, installations...
