Belleville, a hub of artistic creativity

Located across the 10th, 11th, 19th and 20th arrondissements of Paris, Belleville is a vibrant neighbourhood with a village-like atmosphere… a place to live, work and celebrate, now preparing to come alive to the rhythm of artistic creation. Here, street art is everywhere, cultures intermingle and artists form a thriving community. Every May, they open the doors of their studios, tucked away along the neighbourhood's hidden courtyards, alleyways and passages: a unique opportunity to discover their creative worlds!

Bringing art closer to the people who create it

Meet the artists and discover their creative approaches, techniques and forms of expression… The Open Studios also offer an opportunity to purchase original artworks at studio prices, while talking directly with the artists who created them. Art lovers, collectors and simply the curious: everyone is welcome to discover the richness of contemporary art in a friendly and accessible setting.
